Growing a Lasting Impact for Your Family, Your Farm, and God's Kingdom

Join us for a Farm Transition & Legacy Planning Workshop for individuals and families who want to steward what God has entrusted to them with wisdom, faith, and purpose. Whether you're nearing retirement, planning a farm or business transition, or seeking clarity around estate planning, this workshop connects practical decisions with lasting Kingdom impact.

You'll learn from experienced professionals who understand both the technical realities of transition planning and the deeper calling to generosity, exploring how thoughtful planning can protect your family, preserve what you've built, and extend your impact beyond your lifetime.

This free, educational seminar is designed for farmers and families navigating transitions in ownership, assets, or operations, offering practical strategies to manage taxes, plan with confidence, and align charitable giving with your faith and values.

What You'll Gain

- Clarity around estate, retirement, and transition planning decisions
- Strategies to transition land, equipment, and business interests in tax-efficient ways
- Tools for charitable giving that allow generosity without losing control
- Planning approaches that protect your family, honor your faith, and secure your legacy

This is a no-ask, educational seminar. Individual situations vary; this event does not constitute legal or tax advice.
